hip & knee care

Hip and knee joint replacements are helping people live active and pain-free lives. When an entire joint is damaged, a surgeon will conduct a whole joint replacement. The hip or knee joint is replaced with an artificial part known as a 'prosthesis' or 'implant'.

Guidelines to remember for 6 weeks post-operation:

- Support hip and knee placement during sleep
- Avoid excessive joint mobility
- Avoid high impact activity

It is important to consult with your Doctor, Physiotherapist, Occupational Therapist or other health professional and follow their recommendations.

To make the process easier, you may purchase daily living aids, seating supports, pillows and mobility aids prior to surgery so that all the equipment is available and ready for you upon discharge from hospital.
